

MARC BRAGDON
marc.bragdon@outlook.com
(781) 974-5366
Boston, Massachusetts

OBJECTIVE

Seeking a data science or quantitative engineer role at a research or financial company where innovation and teamwork are highly valued and encouraged.

SKILL SUMMARY

- Languages: Python, Java
- Scripting: Bash, Javascript
- Systems: CentOS, Debian/Ubuntu, Windows, AWS
- Technologies: Flask, nginx
- Databases: MySQL, PostgreSQL, MSSQL
- Methodologies: Agile/Scrum, Agile/Kanban
- Tools: SVN, GIT, Docker

EXPERIENCE

Numerated Growth Technologies.

Boston, MA

Support Engineer

September 2018 – Present

- Supported multiple clients both internally and externally in using the product.
- Wrote and maintained documentation and product and processes.
- Bash/Python/PostgreSQL

Preservica

Boston, MA

Support Engineer

October 2016 – September 2018

- Assisted colleague in maintaining cloud servers in AWS to ensure site reliability.
- Participated in site reliability.
- Maintained a suite of install and maintenance scripts for site maintenance.
- Bash/Python/Java

Massachusetts General Hospital (MGH)

Boston, MA

Clinical Researcher

September 2010 – October 2016

- Managed a series of large scale clinical research data registries.
 - Assisted researchers in analyzing demographic and surgical data.
 - Wrote some papers
 - Created data capture and analytics tools for researchers.
 - Maintained 15 web servers and in-house network storage.
 - Delivered solutions to research infrastructure problems.
-

EDUCATION

Syracuse University

Syracuse, NY

Master's in Applied Data Science

Coursework emphasis on machine learning principles including projects in text mining, computer vision and classical machine learning technologies as well as statistics

Northeastern University

Boston, MA

Bachelors of Science in Information Technology

Coursework emphasis in programming and project management.